We Point with pride Kalamazoo College

The staff of the 1952 Bolling Pot presents to you a glimpse of Kalamazoo College, of which they are exceptionally proud. As the oldest college in Michigan, its history dates back to the days when the hostile Indians had scarcely left the region. Its beautiful, sloping quad is crowned by Stetson Chapel, a fitting symbol of the Christianity which is the foundation upon which the College motto, "A Fellowship in Learning," is based.
Yes, we are proud, plumbed the hill to chapel; to every student who has played the game, on of its faculty, proud of field or in the stands; to every stu-
campus, and especially to the Kalamazoo College who has passed a leisurely hour are proud of its study Welles, to the Kalamazoo College To every student who adorns, for he is Kalamazoo College, sung "All Hail to Kaza dedicate this 1952 Boiling Pot. to every student who
Its faculty numbers many of its members in Who's Who, and some have become well-known as the recipients of such prizes as the Oersted Medal. The College itself is approved by the Association of American Universities, is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, is an institutional member of the American Council on Education, and is a member of the College Entrance Examination Board. The women graduates are eligible for national membership in the American Association of University Women. The college offers to the city many valuable aids: the art department is associated with the Kalamazoo Institute of Art, sociology majors do their case work at State Hospital, education majors work in the public schools, and chemistry majors do research in the Upjohn laboratories. The College presents an annual Convocation which offers to the public a chance to hear many excellent speakers which otherwise would not be available.
The theme of this issue of the Boiling Pot, "We Point with Pride to Kalamazoo College," a theme selected by students, is a happy one and one that promises much for the future of this college. It is healthy and right when students are proud of their Alma Mater and appreciate the rich heritage which she has given to them.

All of us may point with pride to our college, not alone in terms of one hundred and nineteen years of impressive achievement, but also as we face the future with the promise it holds for the further enhancement of a noble heritage.

The enviable record achieved in the natural sciences; the professional success of our graduates; the contributions of faculty through research, publication, and creative community service; and the growing awareness of social responsibility on the part of students, as evidenced by Help Week, are all achievements which make us proud of our college.

Convocations, Model Conventions, Bach Festivals, Religious Emphasis Weeks, M.I.A.A. participation, inter-collegiate debate and oratory, and Choral Festivals all attest to an educational experience that goes beyond formal instruction, and all these programs are additional reasons why we are able to point with pride to Kalamazoo College.

A great heritage, a dynamic present, and a hopeful destiny all give promise that future generations of students will continue to take quiet satisfaction in their experience here at Kalamazoo College and may point with pride to their Alma Mater.

In physics lab, in organ class, in psychology, in every section of every department we find that elusive element known as faculty-student relationship. Here at Kalamazoo College we pride ourselves that this element is exceptionally well-developed, enabling any student to receive the help he needs in his chosen field.
The College is a small-scale example of a working democracy. The students who greet each other as they pass on the quad are from homes in twelve different countries. Hailed as third in the nation for its succession of successful Ph.D.'s, Kalamazoo College is also very proud of its number of alumni who have been recognized in Who's Who.

There have been few years since the College was founded that her sons have not brought her athletic laurels. Stars have risen in all fields—football, basketball, golf, track, etc., but perhaps the most consistently prominent in recent years has been the field of tennis. A beautiful new stadium has provided for the annual playing of the National Junior and National Boys' Tennis Tournament; and the tennis team has taken the M.I.A.A. Championship for the past decade and a half.
Jimmy Stefoff, pictured above, became the first player in the history of Kalamazoo College to end atop any department of small-college statistics during the past football season when he hauled in 45 passes to lead the pass-receivers for 1951.

The six-foot right end from Mishawaka, Ind., edged Bob Richardson of Amherst College by one reception, although he played one less game than Richardson and as many as three less than some of the other receivers high in the standings.

His 45 receptions went for a total of 680 yards and five touchdowns, easily a new school record. In MIAA competition he was at his best, picking off 34 tosses for 503 yards and four touchdowns to smash all league pass-receiving totals. For the second successive year he was honored with a position on the all-MIAA team.

In the Albion contest, Stefoff proved the only bright light and ran up his high total of receptions, ten. Against DePauw University and Adrian he experienced his best games ground-gaining wise as he ran for 123 yards against DePauw and 136 against Adrian in the final game of the season.

Stefoff’s record is all the more amazing when the fact that he caught only five passes in the first two games is taken into consideration. That means that during the final six games he was on the receiving end of 40 passes, an average of almost seven per game.

At the end of the campaign, Stefoff was rewarded for his efforts when named recipient of the Clark MacKenzie trophy for the Lineman of the Year. Throughout the season he served as the Hornet captain.
Football

Kalamazoo's inexperienced 1951 football force was a high-powered offensive unit which finished the season with only two wins in eight starts largely because of defensive deficiencies. At one point during the campaign the Hornets gained nationwide attention by scoring five touchdowns and gaining over five hundred yards on successive Saturdays against Hope and DePauw, but still losing both games by two-point margins. High spot on the eight-game card came when the Orange and Black rose up on Homecoming Day to upset then first-place Hillsdale, 51 - 27, in an exciting offensive battle. The only other win was a 32 - 7 decision over Adrian in the final game of the year.

Individual performances took the spotlight as four Kalamazoo men were named to the All-MIAA team. Quarterback Phil Dillman and End Jim Stefoff made the squad for the second time while Halfback Roger Winter and freshman defensive End Al Harris were selected for the first time.

Stefoff, the nation's leading small-college pass receiver, served as team captain and was named the Lineman of the Year. He led the league in pass receiving for the second straight season. The school passing and total offense records fell to Dillman as did the league marks in both departments. Winter was named most valuable player and in the DePauw game set a new single-game rushing mark of 222 yards.
Cross Country

Led by Captain Bob Ketcham, a senior and the only returning letterman, the K-College Cross Country team finished an excellent third in the MIAA race, ranking behind only Albion and Hope in the final standings.

The performance by Coach Emil Kirkman's hurdlers was entirely unexpected in as much as four freshmen, one sophomore, and only one junior combined with Ketcham to make up the top seven runners.

The Hornets experienced their share of troubles in dual meet competition, but when the chips were down in the conference run at Hillsdale, the Orange and Black hurdlers came through for the third spot.

Ketcham was first to cross the line for Kazoo in the league meet, finishing in eighth position. The Evanston, Illinois, athlete also ran in the number one position for the Hornets throughout the season. Don Stowe, Kalamazoo sophomore, generally held down the second spot in Kirkman's lineup.

Freshmen turning in better-than-average performances included Chuck Fox, Larry Dieterman, Tim Lemon, and Bruce Bunyan. The lone other upperclassman on the squad was junior Dick Wilson.

Varsity Basketball

Enjoying the best won-and-lost season at Kalamazoo College since the 1937-38 campaign, the 1951-52 edition of the Hornet basketball team wound up in a second place conference tie, winning seven and losing three in league play. The overall season record was an exceptional thirteen wins and only six defeats.

Team and individual records fell quite extensively before the high-scoring Kazoo quintet. Perhaps the most impressive new mark set was that of the point average per game by the team, which was raised from the previous high of 61.3, set a year ago, to an astounding 74.2 points per game. The school record for most points in a single game was shattered three times as the Hornets went over the 90-point mark on that many occasions. The final mark was 93 points, set at Alma on January 19, in a thrilling 93-90 win over the Scots. Highest on the Tredway floor was the 92-34 win over Adrian.

Sophomore Center Manny Glasser took down most of the new individual records. The main mark shattered by Glasser was the record for most points in a single season formerly held by Frank (Bucky) Walters at 305. Glasser totaled 312 playing two less games for an average of 16.3 per game. A new record for most field goals in a season was also set by Glasser as he whiffed in 122 to break the old mark of 116.

With the same men back from a team which could win only eight of nineteen the year before, the outlook for Coach Lloyd (Dob) Grow was not too impressive at the outset of the season, and early results seemed to bear out pre-season predictions for a poor record. In the sixth game of the campaign, however, the Hornets played one of their better contests of the season to upset favored Calvin College 76-70, and the win seemed to give the Hornets quite a lift. During one four-game winning streak, K-College averaged 91.3 per game and downed Assumption, Adrian, Hope, and Alma. Kazoo handed Hope its only conference loss in addition.

Junior Varsity Basketball

The Hornet Junior Varsity, under Coach Ray Glasser, enjoyed a very successful season, winning ten games and losing only one, and tying the best second team record on the K-College books. Three freshmen, one sophomore, and a junior made up the Hornet starting lineup for the greater part of the season. Outstanding for the junior Hornets was 6-4 pivot man Dean Forhan, who also saw considerable service with the varsity squad.

In running up their impressive record, the JV cagers downed such teams as Hillsdale, Hope, Adrian, Calvin, Klosterman, C.Y.O., and Fuller, the first three twice. The last three mentioned were Kalamazoo City League teams. Calvin handed the Hornets their only loss in a return engagement at Grand Rapids when Forhan was not playing. The Kalamazooans were at a decided disadvantage in height and couldn't quite make up the difference in scrap.

Forhan led the team in scoring with an average of 11.5 points per game, closely followed by Bob Haymans and Bob Copeland, second and third respectively. Other starters were junior forward Bob Haymans and freshman guard Bobby Casler. Stu Siegal, 6-4 center from New York City, looked good in relief as did Roger Gill, Bob Haymans, Bob VanderVeen, Dick Crawford, and Roger Gill.

Only close scrapes encountered by the JV's in addition to the Calvin loss were one-point wins over both Hillsdale and Calvin. All other games were won handily.

Golf

Nelson Lofstedt started his second season as golf coach blessed with three of the better performers from last year's conference second-placers. Heading the squad were senior captain Bob Taylor of Spring Lake, Michigan, and sophomores Ed Staren of Congress Park, III., and Bill Highfield of Greenville, Michigan. Staren was low man for Kalamazoo in the conference meet last season and was named most valuable player. Five matches, all with MIAA opponents, were scheduled.
Track

Although several outstanding performers had been lost, the 1952 Hornet track team still retained enough class to rate near the top of the conference heap. The league race gave signs that it would be a three-team affair for the first time in several seasons. Albion, conference winner for the past few seasons, lost enough material to drop down to around the class of both Kalamazoo and Hope, and the race promised to be close right down to the finish.

Captain Kryn Ihrman, half-mile champion of the MIAA a year ago, tops the holdovers, but will be backed up by Bob Van Horn, Arleigh Dodson, Roy Stricker, Bob Neeser, Lee Greene, Vern Mario, and Bob Ketcham, all lettermen last season. Outstanding new men appear to include Chuck Fox, Tim Lemon, Larry Dieterman, and Sam Grow.

Coach Ernie Kirkman's thinclads will participate in four meets before the annual conference run. The dual meet at the University of Detroit promises to be an outstanding attraction as does the triangular involving Hope and Hillsdale. Alma and Adrian will be on hand for another meet, as will Calvin for a dual attraction.

For the first time in Kirkman's tenure at Kalamazoo, the Hornets are rated an outside chance of copping the league title, as pre-season figuring points to only a four-point difference between the top three squads. Albion, however, still rates a slight edge off indoor performances. Preparations for the season have come along smoothly with outdoor work having been available fairly early.
Tennis

Seven lettermen came back this spring to ease Dr. Stowe’s task of defending the MIAA net championship for the fifteenth straight season. Gone were only Vic Braden and Maurie Pelto from a squad which the year before took sixteen of eighteen matches. On hand to lead the 1952 netters were the likes of Captain Dick Coin, undefeated in dual meet competition last year, Tom Willis, John DeVos, and Hugh Dill. Other lettermen included Dick Stevens, Manny Glasser, and Don Stowe. Top freshman prospect appeared to be Bobby Casler.

One of the toughest southern tours in many seasons was undertaken, with the opposition being furnished by such powerhouses as Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Duke, and North Carolina. Strong opposition after returning home was furnished by Iowa, Cincinnati, Chicago, and Detroit. In all, seventeen matches were played, seven on the southern trip.

Kalamazoo was generally rated the top squad in the MIAA this year once again, and there seemed to be no serious obstacles in the path of championship number fifteen in a row. Most serious competition in conference play was, as usual, slated to come from a good Hope College squad.

Captain Coin figured to lead the Hornets through most of the tough competition, with efficient help expected from number two and three men, Willis and DeVos. Last season’s fine record of sixteen and two could hardly be expected to be bettered, but another winning record is almost a certainty.

Dr. Stowe took advantage of the indoor facilities at Tredway gymnasium to get his squad in readiness and was of the opinion that this season’s squad was probably one of the better ones of recent years.
Women's Intramurals

Activities included in the women's intramural program this year were volleyball, basketball, badminton, table tennis, fencing, and golf. Barbara Hopkins, head physical education director for the women's department, once again guided the program.

Men's Intramurals

Bob Filmer, senior from Chicago, took over the reins as head of the men's intramural competition this year after the departure of Henry Lasch, and did a very creditable job of running the program. Filmer once again divided the teams according to dorms, and the competition turned out to be hot and heavy.

Championships were decided in football, basketball, and ping pong. The Harmon East squad took the grid championship but was edged in the basketball final by a strong Kazoo outfit. Al Bruce-Micah was the winner of the ping pong championship.
Many time-honored traditions prevail about the campus. Each incoming Freshman soon finds that his first role is to carry on the tradition of wearing the green beanie—the mark of his lowly position. Societies, some of which date back over seventy-five years, play an important part in the life of the student, and no one would miss the fun of the annual initiation into the society of his choice.

Student Senate
The governing body on “K’s” campus is the Student Senate. The Senate is an organization designed to aid students in viewing their opinions on problems that arise on campus during the school year. The officers of the Senate are elected by the students. Each class elects one member to represent them in meetings. The Index, Boiling Pot, Men’s Union, Women’s League, and Forensics are also represented. This year the Senate took charge of Homecoming, the Washington Banquet, and the Democratic Model Convention. The president this year was Dick Means. Other officers were Vito Tutera, Vice-President; Joan McGeachy, Secretary; and Bob Filmer, Treasurer. The meetings of the organization were held on the first and third Mondays of each month. In these meetings the students discuss the problems and questions which are of general concern to the student body. Through the Senate, we, the students, voice our views.

Michigan College saw much to be done in preparation for two big meets on the campus; for down in April had to do. Someone had to arrange it and organize it.

Kalamazoo had invited the Province of the Lakes of Phi Kappa Alpha in High School, and Maynard Dewey formed the nucleus. Joined by five new debaters, the squad "Russia Good Showing at the Peace Meet and at Wisconsin with Our National Tribunal," Bill Zuhl, and Norman Barnes wondered. The debate question was an economic one: "Resolved: That the Federal Government should adopt a permanent program and price controls." Last year's returning veterans Bill Zuhl, Ken Venderbush, and Maynard Dewey formed the nucleus. Joined by five new debaters, the squad realized the big job they should fill of the shoes of such stalwarts as Gwen Schwartz, Bill Ives, and Joe Sterner, '51, and Anne Davison, midyear '52.

But to balance the temporary mental retrogression, this year's speakers realized the big job they had to do. Someone had to fill the shoes of the graduated greats to sustain the record Kalamazoo College has made since the arrival of Dr. Ethel A. Kaump seven years ago. And, in addition, there was much to be done in preparation for two big meets on the campus; down in Oklahome, Kalamazoo had invited the Province of the Lakes of Pi Kappa Delta to hold its bi-annual meeting here April 14-16 during spring vacation. The College was also to host the State Peace Meet of the Michigan Inter-collegiate Speech League on February 29. So the challenge was significant both in speaking and organizing.

The debate question was an economic one: "Resolved: That the Federal Government should adopt a permanent program and price controls." Last year's returning veterans Bill Zuhl, Ken Venderbush, and Maynard Dewey formed the nucleus. Joined by five new debaters, the squad lined up as follows: Affirmative: Ken Venderbush and Jim McFadden, Maynard Dewey and John Peterson; Negative: Bill Zuhl and Harry Peara, Jim McFadden and Carol Adams. With an even record for wins and losses at the State Meet in Lansing and Delta Sigma Phi at Madison, the debaters were hopeful of the chances in Phi Kappa Delta.

In oratory three sophomores were carrying the banner. Lucia Scavarda was fourth out of thirteen in the state meet at Detroit with her oration, "You May Be on Trial," Barbara Brown captured second in the State Peace Meet with her speech, "The Last Chord," and Norman Barnes also made a good showing at the Peace Meet and at Wisconsin with her speech, "So Men May Follow."

Tom Williams went over to Albion and came home with a job symbolizing third-place honors in state extemporaneous speaking. He and June Stroberg competed on the general subject: "Corruption in High Office." Rosemarie Brandt and Ken Venderbush entered peace extemporaneous speaking on "Russia and World Peace."

In various discussion tournaments high ratings were carried by Jim McFadden, Tom Williams, Bill Zuhl, and Ken Venderbush. The topics were mostly concerned with "Our Nation's Moral and Ethical Breakdown."

Religious Affairs Committee

The Religious Affairs Committee was organized to take care of all the religious activities on Campus. The committee not only had charge of planning Religious Emphasis Week and mid-week meditations, but it also took care of grace for evening meals and securing student assistants for the chapel services. The Board also had charge of meeting chapel speakers as they arrived in the city and sponsored luncheons to give students the opportunity to meet and talk informally with these speakers. The faculty advisors this year were Mrs. Cassady, Mr. Overley, Dr. Kump, and Mr. Copps. This year, in place of a chapel director, we had a committee of three. Dr. Dunsmore was chairman of this committee, and Mr. Batts and Dr. Barbour work with him.

Index

A very familiar spot on campus is the Index office, located in Bowen Hall. This tiny room was often littered with scraps of paper, ends of pencils, and bits of erasers, for this was where campus reporters turned in their copy to be edited and where the hard-working business staff brought its ads to be set up. In charge of the paper this year was Jim Morrell, assisted by Ken Venderbush. The office always hummed with activity, whether it was typists putting the finishing touches on the week's Index, or the editors busy editing copy. All staff members of the Index were working together for one end, and that was a successful publication.

Along with all the excitement of a new college year came the excitement of establishing a new yearbook staff. The editor, Betty Brenner, set into motion the wheels of the new staff early in the fall. Contracts were signed, layouts were planned, members of the business staff began their relentless rounds of the downtown stores, soliciting ads for the 1952 Boiling Pot. The photography staff was also on the job with its cameras putting on film the life on "K's" campus. With the coming of spring the layout staff members were busy in the office putting the finishing touches on the pride of the staff, The 1952 Boiling Pot.
Of course, life at any school is not all work. Homecoming, May Fete, Christmas Carol Service, formal and informal dances—all fill a part in rounding out the life of the future graduates of Kalamazoo College and help to illustrate that "The End of Learning is Gracious Living."
October 27 — Homecoming

Homecoming for many meant returning to the ivy-covered halls visiting with old friends; however, to the freshmen on campus Homecoming had an entirely different connotation — it was the day of freedom from upperclassman bondage. The excitement of Homecoming began on Friday night with a parade of colorful floats. Saturday dawned on a campus covered with strange scenes. Displays depicting a victory for the Hornets could be seen in front of every building. First prize for floats went to the freshmen class for their float, "Let's Lick 'em." The Euros and the Centuries were awarded prizes for the best displays. While Queen Joyce Tienlen and her court: Sue Gibson, Shirley Case, June Stromberg, and Ruth Jennings reigned over the campus, the fighting Hornets led Hillsdale to victory. Homecoming activities were brought to a close Sunday night with the Homecoming Dance.
Silver-white snow covered the ground with a blanket of white, and colored lights shone from the Christmas trees on the steps of Stetson Chapel. The Christmas season had come to the College. With it came very beautiful traditions, the Christmas Carol Service, the Holly Ball, and the Men’s Union and Women’s League Christmas parties. The Christmas Carol service was presented by the College Women under the direction of Mr. Henry Overley. The girls, dressed in white, held candles and sang carols as Mary Jane Beattie and Anne Davison portrayed the Spirit of Christmas and the Christmas Reader. The Holly Ball was also a memorable occasion. Welles Ring ball was turned into a ballroom filled with gay dancers. A huge Christmas tree stood in the center of the floor, and holly and mistletoe covered the walls, adding to the holiday spirit of the occasion.
February 6, 7, 8 Convocation

"The Substance of Education in a Democracy"

This was the theme of the second annual Kalamazoo College Convocation held February 6, 7, and 8 in Central High School Auditorium. The Convocation was planned by the members of a special committee under the direction of Dr. Richard U. Light, President John Scott Exelon. The Convocation got underway on Wednesday, February 6, in Central High Auditorium, when Dr. Henry Steele Commerson spoke on "Our American Heritage." Thursday morning meeting opened with a speech entitled "Among Conflicting Ideals and Philosophies" by Dean Francis Keppel. Following in the afternoon and evening sessions were Dean Wilbur Shinn.

February 23 — Washington Banquet

One of the most beautiful dinner-dances ever presented in Welles this year is the traditional Washington Banquet. In February of every year students on campus enjoy a wonderful evening of dining and dancing. This year the banquet tables were beautifully decorated with centerpieces of red, white, and blue crepe paper. Little illuminated place cards sat before each place and next to them were arrangements for the flower. The tables, clothed with white linen, were set to the light of candles. This year after the banquet the students and guests were entertained during intermission at coffee time in Hoben. To climax the evening, the couples returned to Welles for dancing to the accompaniment of Bobby Davidson's orchestra.

This year the playgoers on campus were able to see two very outstanding presentations by the drama department. "The Wonderful Cure," given in November, with a children's play with appeal for adults, March brought a program of one-act plays which were presented in grand opera style. Girls as Women Do, were entertained by a tense drama entitled, "Hello, Out There."

Plays
Society Events
Religious Emphasis Week is a week set aside each year for the study of some of the basic problems in life. The theme this year was "Finding Life's Meaning." The Reverend Mr. Gene E. Bartlett of Evanston, Illinois, was the main chapel speaker, and Dr. H. I. Botts, Sr., led the classroom discussion groups and fireside chats. Mrs. T. Thomas Wylie was in charge of the house meeting in Trowbridge. Life on the K College campus does have a deeper purpose. The Religious Activities Board sponsors meditation services, Kappa Delta Chi carries out a year-long project at the Second Baptist Church, and the bi-weekly chapel services have long been an integral part of College life.
March 12 — Career Day

Career Day, sponsored by the Women's League, was a big event for the Women of Kalamazoo College. The program started at 3:30 with three lectures given by various career women. Mrs. Corinna Pfeil spoke on social work, Dr. Frances Noble of Western Michigan College on teaching, and Mrs. Marian Carlton on merchandising. The day was brought to a conclusion with a banquet and style show in Welles Hall. The Style Show, sponsored by Mahoney's, was narrated by Mrs. Colloon. The casual dresses and toppers were designed and made by Mrs. Samuel Rickard and members of the league.

Social life on campus included not only such events as Homecoming and May Fete, but also various other activities such as the "Top Hat."
April 24 - 28 — Singers Tour

April brought the event all choir members had looked forward to since September—the spring tour. This year the trip was pointed eastward to include Saginaw, Detroit and Toledo. After five days of singing and sight-seeing, the fifty members of the choir returned to classes, a rather tired but very happy group.

February 29 — Peace Meet

The Intercollegiate Peace Association has a purpose aimed toward hastening the era of international peace. The method of interesting college students in the problem of international peace is through participation in the preparation and delivery of orations and extempore speeches. This year the stale meet was held on our campus. Barbro Brown of Kalamazoo won second place in women’s oratory.

May 3 — Model Political Convention

Every four years on the Kalamazoo Campus, students participate in a model political convention. This year the model convention was Democratic with such candidates as Senator Robert B. Russell, Governor C. Mennen Williams, Senator Estes Kefauver, Senator Paul Douglas, and Senator Robert S. Kerr. During the weeks preceding the convention, the campus was full of the excitement of campaigning. Students analyzed their candidates as candidates are managed in the real national conventions. The actual convention was held in Tredway Gym where high school students from Southwestern Michigan, Indiana, and Illinois as well as students from the college participated in the banner-waving, speech making, and finally the balloting that go to make a convention. On the fourth ballot Senator Douglas was nominated for president and Harriman became the vice-presidential choice.
May 24 — May Fete

May Fete might well be called the Homecoming of the spring season. Alumni and friends come to the campus to witness this annual spring-time festival.

This year Miss Joan Wood-Morse was general chairman for the occasion. In traditional style, the program for the day included open houses in the dormitories, a reception at Townbridge, the crowning of the queen on the Quad, and the gala semi-formal dance in the evening.

June 9 — Commencement

To the seniors, Commencement was a day of achievement, a day toward which they had been working for four years. As the strains of Pomp and Circumstance filled Stetson Chapel, these eighty men and women filed into their seats for the last time as students, to hear the address by Dr. Kenneth Scott Latanite, president of the American Baptist Convention. Honors, speakers, and finally the coveted diplomas, made this a day long to be remembered.
... To the Future of Kalamazoo College

Even the apparently perfect must be improved. Plans are under way for expansions in many ways—additional buildings with new equipment to enable the student to learn more and to better equip himself to carry the name of the College into the world; as well as expanded social programs to allow for relaxation through fun and fellowship.

What have telephones to do with caps and gowns?
That’s a question you didn’t find in your final examinations. But Michigan Bell has the answer, and it’s one that could be mighty important to you. Michigan Bell’s business is telephone service. And college girls like you are the kind of young women the telephone company likes to have as employees.

Because the telephone is so important in the modern world, Michigan Bell girls find a real thrill in their jobs. They receive excellent pay, too, right from the start . . . have good opportunities for advancement . . . make congenial friends . . . enjoy vacations with pay and other advantages.

So, if you’re graduating this month, and looking for that kind of a job, Michigan Bell may have one for you—an important job as cashier, teller, customer representative, switchboard operator, clerk or typist. Why not drop in now at our employment office, 336 South Burdick, Kalamazoo, for an interview?

Acknowledgements

The editor wishes to express her appreciation and heartfelt thanks to all those who helped to make this book possible: the staff, Dr. Walter Waring, faculty advisor; Mr. Joseph Schiavone of Schiavone Studios, for photography; Mr. Bernard J. Callahan of Pioniac Engraving & Electrotype Company; Mr. Andrew Yasselyleke of Northwestern Printing Company; Mr. Edward Kase of S. K. Smith Cover Company; Mr. Edward Lurk of the Department of Public Relations, and the host of others who, in many small ways, helped us immensely.

The picture of Dr. Beemer was taken by Linenger; the quadangle, Hobbs, Bowes, senior, football team, College Singers, and Home Punt by Schiavone Studio; Dresden, three of the dedication pictures, and three of the class shots by Ward C. Morgan; and the Homecoming game, Spirit of Christmas and December Reader, one picture of December Day, and Commencement by the Gazette. All other pictures were taken by student photographers Fred Beaver and Morris Jones.
