Although steeped in tradition, Kalamazoo College is considered a progressive institution, both within itself and as part of a larger society. Many aspects of the College indicate that we are concerned with the world situation. The lecture series dealing with American goals, the Summer Study Abroad Program, the foreign students and professors on our campus, and the expanding physical facilities, are all indications of growing to meet the demands of a world which will not tolerate indifference.

The quarter system is an attempt on the part of higher educational institutions to provide a realistic answer to the problem of a growing college population and the need to educate youth for the responsibilities which will face them. It will, in many respects, be more difficult for a small private institution to transform the entire life and academic structure of the college, than for a large university to do so. Dr. Hicks, Dean Barrett, and other members of the administration and faculty, are to be commended on the manner in which they are adapting this system to meet the specific needs of the College.

It is difficult to express the spirit of an institution in a concrete form. However, this is our attempt to relate Kalamazoo College to a changing, progressive world.
STUDENTS TRAVEL, STUDY

ABROAD...

Extensive orientation, which teaches briefing in various aspects of life in the U.S. and in Europe, has become an integral part of the Summer Study Abroad Program. Peter Boyd-Bowman advises students who will study in Spain this summer. Ann Anderson talks with prospective scholar Gene Tidrick, who later received a scholarship.
...AND TAKE AN INTEREST IN NATIONAL AFFAIRS

Dr. Moynord O. Williams, Founder-Speaker.

Mr. Edward King, Administrative Secretary of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, relates some of his ideas to students.

Kalamazoo College was asked to participate in an academic College Bowl and sent a team composed of Douglas Blagdon, Robert Kitchel, Halde Christman, and Douglas Fiero. David Mead and William Rue viruses acted as alternates, and Dr. Harold J. Harris coached the team.

Dr. Maynard O. Williams, Founder's Day Speaker.
CURRICULUM, CAMPUS REFLECT PROGRESS

The change to a quarter system involved a great deal of planning before registration for classes.

The addition to Treadway houses an indoor tennis court, athletic offices, and locker rooms.

Married student housing conditions receive long overdue attention in the form of well-constructed and attractive units.

Faculty and administration
I welcome this annual opportunity to write a few paragraphs for the Boiling Pot, since it compels me to review those events which shape the ongoing life of our College. Seldom have I faced the task with comparable satisfaction, for 1960-61 will take its place as a memorable period in the continuing panorama of this institution.

Each of you will remember 1960-61 for varying reasons. For some, new vistas of understanding have been opened. Others have come to realize the raison d'être of the college experience. Many have found lasting friendships. Even a few may have encountered frustration. But as these days are viewed in retrospect, I trust that the overwhelming majority will find satisfaction in the thought that the months together have been worthy of the effort and the sacrifice.

Two milestones will highlight this year. First, it has been a time in which student life has truly come of age. The effective leadership of the Senate, the mature attitude manifested by the overwhelming majority, and the dedication to the academic life by the community, all indicate that many have acquired a realization of the purposes of the liberal education and our interpretation of them. Second, 1960-61 will be remembered as the year of great decision, in which we dared to project a new and challenging educational plan of year-round operation. New trails will soon be blazed, which promise to usher in an important and exciting era, and you were there when the momentous decision took place.

Since Dr. Henry Overley came to our campus in September, 1934, from the position of organist and choirmaster at St. Luke's Church, he has helped to establish the music department as an important part of the College and the community. He founded the Bach Festival in 1947, and has directed it annually since that time. Dr. Overley is also known as a composer, one of his works being the "Hoben Suite for Organ," which is a musical representation of student life at "K."

Mrs. Overley has taught voice here since 1936, and together they have sponsored the Overley Society, an organization for students who have musical interests and talent. The College will feel a great loss upon the retirement of the Overleys this year, as they have made immeasurable contributions both to the music department and outside of their special field, and have come to be very special members of the College family.

Cicero
As a result of the growing concern for the future of the African nations which is now prevalent in the world, we have become aware of the great lack of knowledge and understanding of this continent which characterizes a great majority. In accordance with this realization, the History department of Kalamazoo College joined two other Michigan colleges in engaging a professor of African History.

Dr. Rolf Italiaander is Dutch by birth, but has traveled and studied extensively throughout Europe. He knows and loves the African continent and its people, having lived and traveled there for more than twenty-five years. He is a member of several groups which are concerned with African and international affairs, and has written many books, most of which have dealt with Africa. His interest lies not only in the historical and economical aspects of this continent, but also in the cultural. Dr. Italiaander has been a valuable asset to the College.

“History, by apprising men of the past will enable them to judge of the future.”

sports
Enjoying one of their best seasons in several years, Rolla Anderson's spirited Hornets finished the season with a four and five record which featured two exciting upsets. They opened the season by surprising a highly rated Wabash squad 19 to 7. Six Saturdays later the team drew wide attention when they handed undefeated Ferris Institute a stunning 21 to 13 defeat for what was probably the biggest upset in Michigan college football this fall. These glittering wins contributed to a rather modest two and five conference record.

Team honors for the season in the MIAA statistics were well distributed. Carl Bekofske led the team in yards gained with 349 in 85 attempts. Jim Smith was the most effective passer of record, completing 32 for 412 yards. In pass receiving, the honors went to Dan Pell and John Persons. Pell caught twelve passes for 206 yards, while Persons had fourteen for 204 yards. Pell was also the team scoring leader, and Persons finished second in the conference in punting.

Senior Jon Labahn was selected as the team's most valuable player, and also received All Conference honors. MIAA honorable mentions went to Bob Peters, Jim Smith, Carl Bekofske, Dan Pell and Ed Lauermann.

GRIDDERS FEATURE UPSETS
Following an unimpressive start, partially due to a shortage of experienced guards and academic ineligibility, the Hornets roared to a glorious finish, winning five of their last eight games against very strong competition. Backed by unusually strong student support, the team jelled and several winning player combinations emerged, to end the season with a hard won eight and twelve record. Highlights of the season included a surprising upset of a powerful Hope team, and the thrilling near upset of undefeated Calvin in the last game.

Gordon Rodwan was named to the All Conference second team, and Jon Lindenberg received an honorable mention. Rodwan led the team in almost every department, compiling a 17 point per game average, and was voted the most valuable player and honorary captain. Bob Morgan was cited as the most improved player of the season.

The cross country team's third place finish in the MIAA this year represented their worst showing in several seasons. However, the team posted a winning record of six and five.

Senior Russ Scheib, who was the only man left from the championship squad of 1957, led the team throughout the year. A group of excellent sophomores, led by Don Schneider, who will be next year's captain, make the future look promising. Roy Wiltrout received the plaque for being the most improved runner of the year, and was the only freshman to earn a letter. Scheib was voted the most valuable member of the team.

HARRIERS TEAM TAKES THIRD

Though lacking the team balance of the 1960 Hornet trackmen, the 1961 team possessed many individual standouts. These included Ray Comeau in the hurdles, Russ Scheib in the distances, Jon Lindenberg in the high jump, Roger Kramer in the discus and shot put, and Steve Turner in the 440. With a team built around this small nucleus, the Hornets faced one of their toughest schedules in several seasons.

BASEBALL TEAM SHOWS SPIRIT

Coach Ray Steffen again found himself with only a minimum of players on hand to begin the baseball season. A majority of the team were returning upperclassmen.

The golf team showed unusually good balance this year, with several players capable of taking medalist honors. A majority of the team members are underclassmen, which is an encouraging indication for the future.

In addition to its intercollegiate sports, Kalamazoo College has a well-organized and extensive intramural program, which ranges from the major sports of football, basketball, and baseball, to almost every conceivable minor sport, including horseshoes, cross-country, volleyball, badminton, table tennis, swimming, track, golf, and tennis. Keen competition, accentuated by society rivalry, creates an exciting race for the Intramural All-Sports trophy. The program is under the supervision of an Intramural Sports Council, which is headed by Swede Thomas.

CONGRATULATIONS GRADUATES

Today the goal you aimed for more than a decade ago is at hand. For most of you this is a fitting climax to years of study and hard work—graduation.

Some of you may choose to continue your formal education; others will go into industry or the business and professional world. But wherever you go and whatever you do, the experience you have had, the knowledge and understanding you have acquired, and the principles you have lived by during the past four years, applied to your new endeavor, will make your life richer and fuller.

Sinc e 1869
This yearbook has been a joint endeavor and has required the time, patience, and enthusiasm of a great many people. I would first like to thank my staff for their contributions by way of time, endeavor, and imagination, and our sponsor, Miss Maxine Turnage. Among those not pictured are Jim St. Clair, Byron Anderson, Ray Boylan, and Bob Johansen, of the sports staff. Many others prefer not to be mentioned. Special recognition should be given to photographers Ken Eckler and Cliff Harwood.

Others on campus have aided us in innumerable ways, directly and indirectly. Students and members of the faculty and administration have not only cooperated with our wishes, but have contributed many ideas. Mr. Frank Bostwick of the Publicity Department has been especially helpful.

Members of the community who have contributed to the production of this annual are: Mr. Jack Bundy of S. K. Smith Company, Mr. Ward Goodrich of Ihling Brothers Everard Company, Mr. Barney Gould of the Kalamazoo Gazette, Mr. Peter Klawson of Commercial Pictures, Inc., Mr. Joseph Schiavone of Schiavone Studio, and Mr. G. John Smink of Crescent Engraving Company.

We hope that this issue of the BOILING POT has met, and even surpassed, your expectations.

Thank you,

Diane E. White,
Editor
