W. HAYDN AMBROSE NAMED DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT
FOR KALAMAZOO COLLEGE

Pat Pangburn
March 1, 1983

W. Haydn Ambrose of Portage has been named director of development for Kalamazoo College. He will oversee the general operation of the Annual Fund and supervise the support resources of the Development Office, including research and records, gift processing and acknowledgment, and data processing. He also will continue as director of the deferred giving and church relations programs.

Ambrose, affiliated with the College since 1967, most recently was associate director of development. He previously served as dean of admissions and financial aid and as assistant to the president for church relations and director of financial aid.

A graduate of Eastern Baptist College, Ambrose earned a B.D. degree from Lancaster Seminary and an M.A. degree from Western Michigan University. He also received an honorary doctorate from the American Baptist Seminary of the West.
