HOLIDAY GREETINGS

Measurements of Today's Financial Aid

by W. Hayden Ambrose,
Assistant to the President for Church Relations and Director of Financial Aid

Those of us who graduated from high school in the 1940's and early 50's may remember that our chances for receiving financial aid at the college of our choice were dependent on two things — one's prowess as a fullback or one's academic standing as class valedictorian. The last two decades have brought changes not only to academic life per se, but also to the philosophy and implementation of financial assistance to students.

Today's student at Kalamazoo College is judged for financial aid on two criteria — academic standing and financial need. If he qualifies to be admitted to Kalamazoo College, he has already passed the academic test. The awarding of financial aid is determined by a careful computation of what his family can afford to pay for his education, based on the report of the College Scholarship Service. His need is then met — for his four years at Kalamazoo College — usually by a package comprised of two, three, or even more types of assistance.

Students receive outright scholarship grants from the College, either from the General Scholarship Fund or from name scholarships, many of them having particular designations. We have been fortunate through the years in receiving a number of endowed scholarships from interested friends and alumni. The package may also include a state scholarship, an Economic Opportunity Grant, a national or local loan, and a work-study opportunity on campus. Many of our students are academically strong enough to receive outside scholarships from various companies, foundations, and organizations. We currently have on our campus 20 National Merit Scholars, four General Motors Scholars, 20 American Baptist Scholars, and many others. All of these scholarships are considered within the context of the student's financial need. The key, however, is academic standing and financial need, and the total package of aid cannot exceed the need as determined by the financial aid computation. Since almost all corporations, foundations, and colleges in the country use College Scholarship Service, there is coordination in determining this figure.

For some time we have felt that there are some students who should be recognized through college scholarships because of their special contributions to the life of the College and the community. Therefore, we have set up two groups of special scholarships in this category. During the last year we established the James and Lucinda Hinsdale Stone Scholarship Program, set aside for outstanding entering freshmen, who, because of favorable financial circumstances, are not eligible for any of the regular scholarship awards. These Stone scholars receive special recognition at their high school commencements. We have more recently established the Kalamazoo Area Scholarships to be awarded annually, beginning in the fall of 1970, to Kalamazoo area students. The selection is to be based on academic excellence as determined by the Committee on Admissions without regard to financial need, and on qualities of leadership as determined by a committee of community leaders. This flexibility makes it possible for the College both to attract and to recognize outstanding scholars and student citizens to build with us an even better Kalamazoo College family.

Approximately forty per cent of the students attending Kalamazoo College receive financial aid from some source. This varies from a minimum of $100, to the total cost of tuition, fees, room and board.

Our philosophy of financial aid was summed up quite well recently when a foundation executive said to me, "I know that many foundations are considering limiting their scholarship awards during these years of urban crisis, feeling that they should give their money more directly to special projects in the inner city and other areas of attention. But I still think the finest and most lasting contribution we can make is to continue supporting minority students and others from these tension areas, so that they will become, through the years, the real answers to the problems of our day."

Message to Note

Shortly after the first of the year, our nominating committee will begin the screening of names of candidates for alumni officers and alumni-trustees. You can be of assistance to us in sending any suggested candidates' names to the Alumni Office. Please let us hear from you soon.

On November 18, the first meeting of our enlarged alumni executive board was held. New members include Mrs. William A. Kirkpatrick, representative of the Women's Council; Mrs. Robert Huston, representative of the Parents' Council; and Lorene Johnson, member of the senior class. I am sure I speak for the whole group when I tell you that we feel that their participation in board activities will add in great measure to the effectiveness of our work.

Now let us hear from you as we begin the preparation of a new slate of officers for the Kalamazoo College Alumni Association!

Ken Krum
President

ALUMNI ACHIEVEMENT

Harold W. Brown

The New York Academy of Medicine recently awarded its Academy Medal to Harold W. Brown, M.D., a graduate of Kalamazoo College in 1924. Dr. Brown holds four earned graduate degrees: he received his M.S. degree at Kansas State, his Doctor of Science at Johns Hopkins, his M.D. at Vanderbilt, and his Doctor of Public Health at Harvard. His honorary degrees include the L.D.H. from Kalamazoo College, in 1945.

His scientific accomplishments have been in the area of parasitology. He participated in the development of drugs for the successful treatment of hookworm and roundworm. His publications in tropical and preventive medicine total 120, and he is a contributor to five major textbooks.

At both Duke University and Columbia University (where he has taught since 1943), he received "outstanding teacher" awards. He has served as dean of the School of Public Health at the University of North Carolina and as director of the School of Public Health of Columbia University. He was at one time acting dean of the University of Puerto Rico after personally accomplishing the conversion of an institute of tropical medicine to a full-fledged medical school.

Some years ago, he started a program of sending a few medical students to spend two-month vacation periods in underdeveloped areas of the world. Currently, 30 fourth-year medical students are spending an elective two-month period as interns in hospitals in Africa, South America, Taiwan, and Thailand. There are already more than 200 alumni of this program who with others have established a fund which has built and endowed at a hospital in Liberia, a building to accommodate medical students during the program. The building appropriately is named the Harold Brown Hall of Columbia University.

Robert M. Boudeman

Robert M. Boudeman '40, executive vice president of The Upjohn Company since 1967 and previously chairman of the board and managing director of Upjohn International, Inc., has been elected president of the parent company. Upjohn is Kalamazoo's largest employer, with some 4,200 employees here, and is ranked 274th on Fortune Magazine's list of America's largest corporations.

He started work for Upjohn part-time during summer vacation from Kalamazoo College in 1937. Following World War II, he went into the export department and was associated with Upjohn's international operations until becoming chairman of the board and managing director of Upjohn International, Inc., in 1967. Later the same year, he left Upjohn International to become executive vice president of the parent company. He has been a member of the board of directors since 1958.

He is a director of the First National Bank and Trust Co., a trustee of Kalamazoo College, and president and a director of Gull Lake Country Club. His wife is the former Carol Gilmore '39.

Another alumnus, Richard Tedrow '45, is currently president of Upjohn International.

Under the administrative change, Dr. E. Gifford Upjohn has retired as chairman of the board and is being succeeded by R. T. Parfet, Jr., who has been president since 1962. Donald S. Gilmore has resigned as vice chairman of the board, a post he has held since retiring in 1961 from active management of the company as chairman of the board.

Owen W. Williams

Owen W. Williams, a 1948 graduate of Kalamazoo College, is the director of the Air Force's Terrestrial Sciences Laboratory which successfully bounced laser signals off the retroreflector target placed on the moon by the Apollo XI astronauts. The experiment was performed at the Air Force Cambridge Research Laboratories Lunar Laser Observatory located in the Catalina Mountains near Tucson.

A one billion watt ruby laser transmits light pulses through a 60 inch aperture telescope aimed at the lunar optical target. At the moon these transmitted pulses would appear as discs (pancakes) of red light about 10 feet thick and several miles in diameter. As these transmitted signals intercept the laser target a small portion of the ruby light is returned by the target to the observatory, where it is detected as a pulse of photoelectrons. The laser target is comprised of 100 1/2 inch diameter optical cube corners contained in an 18 inch square aluminum holder.

The round trip travel time of laser signals from the observatory to the lunar target is 2 1/2 seconds on the average. By precisely measuring this travel time to ten billionths of a second the range between the observatory and the lunar target is accurately computed. Such accurate range measurements acquired in quantity over the years will be used continuously to improve our knowledge of the motion of the earth-moon system.

The relationship between the Williams family and Kalamazoo College spans four generations, including Williams' grandfather, Dr. George A. Williams, a professor of Greek at the College; his father, Dr. Maynard Owen Williams, a 1910 graduate who went on to become foreign editor of National Geographic; and his daughter, Janet, presently a senior at "K." Two brothers, Charles '54 and George '41, and a sister, Mary Williams Danielson '50, also are Kalamazoo College alumni.

James W. Morrell

James W. Morrell '53, executive vice president of the Saga Administrative Corporation, Menlo Park, Calif., has been elected to the Board of Directors of the American Management Association. One of twelve nominees selected from a group of 300 executives, he was elected on the basis of his participation in AMA seminars and workshops, his representation of the American restaurant and food service industry (in total the nation's fourth largest industry in terms of direct employment and dollar volume), and his executive responsibilities within Saga. He administers and coordinates Saga's corporate activities relating to finance, personnel, planning and marketing, informational systems, forecasting, and operation services.

Saga is a nationwide management service firm operating in 450 locations in the college, hospital and business/industry markets. For the past fiscal year, Saga reported net revenues of $107 million. W. Price Laughlin, president of Saga, had headquarters located in Kalamazoo from 1951 to 1960. He is a member of the College Board of Trustees and has played a major role in the planning for the new $1.5 million dining hall complex now being built on the campus. In the new building, Saga will be serving in seven different dining rooms.

Morrell traces his career with Saga to 1955 in Kalamazoo. As a part-time speech instructor, he joined Saga as food service manager at the College. He later became district manager for Michigan, and then director of the Great Lakes Region. He moved to Saga's Administrative Center in 1965 and became executive vice president in 1968.

ON CAMPUS AND OFF

☼ President Weimer K. Hicks of Kalamazoo College announced at the annual fall meeting of the College Board of Trustees that during the fiscal year 1968-69, the College received a total of $2,371,777 in gifts and grants. Included in the total, which represents an increase of half a million dollars over fiscal year 1967-68, were contributions of $1,842,696 from the private sector (individuals, foundations, and businesses), and grants of $529,081 from government agencies. Also included in the overall total is the record breaking 29th Annual Fund of $226,311.

☼ The 30th Annual Fund is now well underway, reaching 31% of its goal as of November 15, 1969, according to Jack Lawrence, assistant director of development and director of the Annual Fund. The chairman for this year's drive is Ted Hartleb '50 who served as co-chairman last year; his co-chairman is Charles (Bud) Starbuck '48. Vice-chairmen are Richard Kjoss, Ted Lawrence, Hugh Mehaffie '57, Marshall Rutz '34, Robert Koestner '36, William Culver '42, Wayne Stone '47, Dr. Donald Collingsworth, and Thomas Lambert '63.

☼ Twenty-three Kalamazoo College students were cited for excellence in specific academic fields at the College's annual Honors Day Convocation on October 17. Featured speaker for the ceremony was Dr. Sherrill Cleland, professor of economics and formerly Dean of Academic Affairs. Dr. Cleland recently returned to the campus after a two-year leave of absence during which he served as a project consultant for the Ford Foundation, assisting in the establishment of a graduate course in business administration at the American University in Beirut, Lebanon.

☼ Mrs. Eileen C. Irish, manager of the College Book Store for the past 10 years, died suddenly on October 1. She is survived by her husband, Kenneth; one son, Major Kenneth Irish, Jr., of Arlington, Va.; one daughter, Sally, at home; and 5 grandchildren.

☼ The Todd Memorial Lecture Series in Philosophy which will conclude on December 5 has presented outstanding philosophers on seventeenth and eighteenth century philosophy. The lecturers have included Professor Willis Doney of Dartmouth, Professor John Yolton of New York University, Professor Stanley Bates of the University of Chicago, and Professor Sam Todes of Northwestern. Dr. Todes' lecture on December 5 will be given at 4:00 p.m. in Room 103 of Dewing Hall on the topic, "Kant: Doctrine of Self-Knowledge."

☼ In late September, Kalamazoo College hosted the first Women's Collegiate Tournament of the Western Tennis Association. Karen Engle, Kalamazoo senior, won the singles title and teamed with Barbara Veenhoven, also a senior, to win the finals in doubles play . . . On November 15 and 16, the College hosted the Great Lakes Sectional Women's Field Hockey Tournament, to make selections of players for the national tournament on Thanksgiving weekend in Ann Arbor. Over two hundred players participated in the sectionals — from Ann Arbor, Cleveland, Dayton, and Detroit, and from colleges in Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan.

☼ On October 29, the Alwin Nikolais Dance Troupe presented a lecture demonstration in Dalton Theatre. Nikolais, hailed as a prophet of the new theater by the New York Times, is noted specially for his use of dancers, lighting, and electronic sound to create a unique, total theater. On the following evening, the troupe appeared in concert at the Western Michigan University Auditorium.

☼ Kalamazoo College has received a grant of $22,300 from the National Science Foundation for a research project on the "Mode of Action of Auxin in the Promotion of Elongation." The research covered by the grant, which will be effective for approximately two years, is under the direction of Dr. Michael L. Evans, a member of the College's biology department. The research will study the relation of auxins to plant tissues which results in rapid promotion of plant growth.

☼ Dr. David Evans of the biology department has been awarded a Sloan Foundation faculty development grant for the fall quarter of 1969. He will continue his work on the biology of Michigan velvet ants. Assisting Evans will be Bruce Miller, a "K" College senior.

☼ Miss Sarah Kitzsteiner, a junior from Grand Rapids, has been named as the first recipient of the recently established Hercules Scholarship in chemistry at Kalamazoo College. The Delaware based firm, a major manufacturer of papermaking chemicals, established the scholarship through the 30th Annual Fund Drive and will underwrite it on an annual basis for the next five years, awarding it to a top ranking upperclassman in the field of chemistry. Miss Kitzsteiner, who is presently studying in Erlangen, Germany, through the College's Foreign Study Program, served as a research assistant for the National Center for Atmospheric Research in Boulder, Colorado, during her Career-Service quarter last spring.

☼ Fourteen faculty members and seven administrators and staff are new at Kalamazoo College this year. Dr. David G. Badman, assistant professor of biology, received his Ph.D. from the University of Florida. Miss Barbara E. Boley, instructor in Spanish and director of foreign study program in Madrid, studied at the University of Madrid and received her M.A. at Tulane University. She taught for three years at Mary Baldwin College. Dr. John O. Bornhofen, associate professor of Stephen B. Monroe Chair of Money and Banking, received his Ph.D. from Illinois University and was assistant professor of economics at Illinois State University for the past two years. He has also served as research economist for the Federal Reserve Bank. Miss Bonnie Bradfield, instructor in biology, received her M.S. from the University of Illinois and was a Woodrow Wilson nominee. Hardy O. Fuchs, instructor in German, was an exchange student from Bonn, Germany, to Kalamazoo College. He is currently working for his doctorate at Michigan State University. Larry W. Gamble, assistant professor of theatre arts and speech, has performed at Theatre International, Madrid, Spain. He received his M.A. from Fresno State College, "with distinction." Dr. Rolf M. Hahne, assistant professor of chemistry, received his Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin. His post-doctoral work has been at Brookhaven National Laboratory and Kernforschungsanlage, Julich, Germany. For the past four years he has served as assistant professor at Wittenberg University. Henry L. Harper, instructor in physical education, graduated from Alcorn Agricultural and Mechanical College. A Woodrow Wilson nominee, he has also studied at the University of the South and Western Michigan University. He comes to Kalamazoo from Rock Island, Ill., where he coached high school track and basketball. Dr. Irmgard Kowatzki, assistant professor of German, is a native of Germany. She received her Ph.D. from Stanford University, where she was a Woodrow Wilson Fellow. Mrs. Marilyn A. Maurer, instructor in physical education, received her B.S. from Western Michigan University. She taught last year at Pennfield High School in Battle Creek. Miss Claire L. Riser, instructor in romance languages, received her B.A. from Kalamazoo College and her M.A. from Indiana University. Miss Ellen Robert, instructor in sociology, received her B.A. and M.A. degrees from Western Michigan University. James S. Tipton, GLCA Intern in creative writing, is currently working toward his Ph.D. degree from Michigan State University. He did his undergraduate work at Purdue. He recently has been editor of the Red Cedar Review, an international quarterly of the arts published by MSU. Miss Regina M. Tully, visiting instructor of German, received her M.A. from Ohio State University. New administrators and staff include John D. Irvine, resident counselor in Severn Hall; Miss Jane P. Kenehan, coordinator of campus activities; Jack W. Lawrence, assistant director of development; Miss Linda Redman, resident counselor in Mary Trowbridge House; George Smitley, assistant to the business manager for buildings and grounds; David J. Tidwell '69 and John A. Trump '68, admissions counselors.

Women's Swimming Competition Renewed

The first "K" College swimming team was a group of coeds who entered intercollegiate competition in 1943. They were coached by Elizabeth Matson for two years and then by Mary Thompson in 1945 and 1946. They posted outstanding records; in fact, they were second to Michigan State University in the First National Collegiate Meet ever held for women.

According to the 1946 Boiling Pot, in a dual meet at MSU, three pool records were broken by "K" swimmers: the medley relay team (Buck, Baldwin, J. Ensing) broke the 90-yard relay record, and Virginia Baldwin broke both the 30- and 40-yard breast stroke records. Janet Ensing was captain of the team.

After the long absence of swimming competition at "K," the College once again has a women's team. On November 15, the 1969 squad entered the State Intercollegiate meet at Oakland University and placed fourth behind

MSU, Michigan, and Central Michigan. Sue Stuckey had a first in the 50-yard butterfly and a third in the 100-yard individual medley. Charmine Messenger placed third in diving, and the relay team of Mary Fleming, Gail Theall, Linda Nelthorpe and Sue Stuckey placed fourth. Their coach is Mrs. Marilyn Mauer.

Kalamazoo College has a swimming tradition to build on — a winning women's team of the 40's. With the new natatorium, the sport now claims a brand new women's team and a men's team in its second year of competition.

Sports

by Dick Kishpaugh

As reported in the last issue, the Hornet football squad surprised everyone — except Coach Ed Baker. It posted a 3-2 MIAA record to finish third behind Albion and Alma. Kalamazoo finished ahead of Hope, Olivet, and Adrian in the final standings. League victories included a 31-0 triumph over Hope, a 28-0 win over Adrian, and a 57-3 rout of Olivet. In the Olivet game, quarterback Gary Armstrong threw passes for a school single-game record of 270 yards. In non-league games, the Hornets were 1-2 for a final 4-4 overall record, but the single non-league victory was a tremendous upset over Wayne State, 18-13.

In other fall sports, the cross country team failed to retain its 1968 championship, and fell to fifth place in the MIAA with a final dual meet record of one win, seven losses, and one tie. The soccer team, in its first full varsity season, had a 3-3 record which included a 1-0 victory over Albion's top-rated MIAA team. Wolfgang Lugauer coached the cross country team and Emilio Velasco was the soccer coach.

The 1969-70 winter season promises to be full of action. Basketball, wrestling, and swimming now are all full-fledged varsity sports at Kalamazoo, and swimming will soon join basketball and wrestling as an official MIAA sport.

In swimming, the big feature of the home schedule will be the informal MIAA championships, to be held in Kalamazoo on February 28, 1970. A four-way meet involving Kalamazoo, Lake Forest, North Park, and Concordia, in Kalamazoo on January 17, is the chief attraction of the home wrestling schedule.

December will be a busy month and a historic month for the basketball team. Kalamazoo will once again participate in the Marshall Optimist Tournament at Marshall, meeting Grand Valley in a first round game on Friday, December 26.

On Saturday, December 20, basketball history will be made when Kalamazoo College and Western Michigan appear in a doubleheader on Western's floor. Kalamazoo College will meet Manchester at 7:00 p.m. that night, and Western will play Central Michigan University in the second game at 8:30 p.m. Kalamazoo actually competed against Western long before the first World War, and the Hornets played on Western's home floor in 1939 in an MIAA playoff against Hope and Albion. But never in modern history have the two Kalamazoo collegiate teams appeared in a single evening of activity.

New Trustees

The Board of Trustees of Kalamazoo College announced the appointment of three new trustees at their annual fall meeting held Friday, November 7. The new members of the Board are William H. Crawford, a Flint area educator, Edward Davis, president of a Detroit car dealership and Baptist leader, and Alan E. Schwartz, Detroit attorney. Mr. Crawford, president of the Council of Social Agencies of Flint and Genesee Counties, has been connected with Flint schools since 1957. He is presently projects director of the personalized curriculum program for the school system, a post he was appointed to in 1967. He received a Master's degree in guidance and personnel services from Michigan State University in 1964. Mr. Davis, in 1963, became the first black in the United States to be granted a new car franchise from one of the "Big Three" auto makers when he was awarded a Chrysler-Plymouth and Imperial dealership. In addition, he is the president and founder of The Dexter Boulevard Redevelopment, Incorporated, and a co-founder and the largest stockholder of Victory Loan and Investment Company, serving as president of the latter company through 1962. Mr. Davis is a member of the Second Baptist Church in Detroit, a member of the Board of Trustees of Michigan Blue Cross, and serves on the State Board of Education's committee on Education for Health Care. Mr. Schwartz is a member of the prominent law firm of Honigman, Miller, Schwartz & Cohn in Detroit. He is chairman of the executive committee and chief financial officer of Cunningham Drug Stores, Inc.; he is a trustee of Harper Hospital and a director of The Detroit Edison Company. Mr. Schwartz is active in numerous cultural and social agencies in Detroit. He was recently elected president of the Jewish Welfare Federation of Detroit. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and has a LL.B., magna cum laude, from Harvard University.
