Unless otherwise noted, all programs are at 7 p.m. in the President's Lounge, Hicks Center.

April 6 - "Women and Holistic Health" - Maurice Edwards, of Western Michigan University's Holistic Health Program will present an introductory lecture about holistic medicine. He will also discuss how holistic health relates to college life, and how it can be used to help deal with college.

April 13 - "Date Rape" - Mary Lou Krumme, of the Sexual Assault Program, will present an overview of community rape statistics and services offered by the Assault Program. She will also discuss the dynamics and effects of acquaintance or date rape.

April 20 - NO SYMPOSIUM due to Founder's Week activities.

April 27 - "Women and Religion" - Nancy Falk, a religion professor at Western Michigan University, will discuss women in several different religious traditions, including examples of their roles and the way they are oppressed within their particular religion.

May 4 - Judy Gorman-Jacobs, a folk singer from New York City, will be performing at 8 p.m. in the Round Room.

May 11 - "Anorexia and Bulimexia: Starving for Love / Swallowing Our Anger." Diane Seuss-Brakeman, Special Services Coordinator for the YWCA Domestic Assault Program and a graduate assistant at the WMU Counseling Center, will discuss eating disorders. She will also discuss feminist and clinical interpretations of them, and consider the relationship between women, food, and the body.

May 18 - "Women and Creativity: Visual Arts" - Marcia Wood, Professor of Art at "K", will present a lecture focusing on women sculptors, the attitudes they take toward their work, and briefly speculate on the possibility of women's imagery in art.

May 25 - "Women and Creativity: Literature" - Dr. Kathleen Reish, Associate Professor of Romance Languages, and Dr. Gail Griffin, Assistant Professor of English, will discuss women writers, with a focus upon Simon de Beauvoir and Virginia Woolf. In addition to discussing the impact of these writers upon literature, the relationship of creativity, and the female imagination and experience will be explored.

June 1 - "Women at Kalamazoo College" - At 7 p.m. in Dewing 103 a videotape produced by junior Kate Warner will be shown. The videotape is composed of interviews of several women who have been active in the College's life since the 1920's.

QUESTIONS AND/OR SUGGESTIONS FOR FUTURE W.I.G. SYMPOSIA WOULD BE APPRECIATED AND COULD BE PLACED IN THE W.I.G. MAILBOX.
